WK HIGHLIGHTS

• Hand Of God

"Hand of God" was a goal scored by Argentine footballer Diego Maradona during the quarter-final of the 1986 World Cup between Argentina and England. The goal was illegal under football rules because Maradona used his hand, but because the referees did not have a clear view of the game, Argentina led 1-0. Argentina then won 2-1.

The goal takes its name from Maradona's initial response when asked if he had scored illegally. He declared that the goal had been scored with "a bit of Maradona's head and a bit of God's hand".

• The headbutt from Zidane

The two men at the centre of a remarkable encounter were the centre of attention throughout the 2006 World Cup final. An off the ball incident was not spotted by match referee Horacio Elizondo, these were the days before video assistant referee (VAR), but consultations with the fourth official resulted that Zinedine Zidane faced an early bath.

Replays showed Zidane in discussion with Materazzi as both made their way up the field, with the former lashing out at the latter as he planted a headbutt into the Italian's chest and left him rolling around on the grass.

This was the last match in Zinedine Zidane's football career.

• Fastest goal

Turkish striker Hakan Sukur scored the fastest goal in the World Cup 2002. Sukur managed to score exactly 10.8 seconds after the kick-off of the game between South Korea and Turkey. Sukur scored 51 goals in 112 international matches, in fact.

• Fastest red card

During the 1986 World Cup match between Uruguay and Scotland in Mexico, Uruguayan Jose Batista was shown the red card after only 56 seconds. That is still a record.

WORLD CUP FACTS

The first ever World Cup was in 1930.
The tournament was held in Uruguay and it was attended by 13 countries. Uruguay won from Argentina in the final with 4-2 and also became the first world champion.

The oldest player at a World Cup ever:

Egyptian goalkeeper Essam El Hadary is the oldest player ever at a World Cup. At 45, he played goalkeeper for Egypt at the 2018 World Cup in Russia. He also stopped a penalty kick in the match against Saudi Arabia, also becoming the oldest goalkeeper to ever stop a penalty at a World Cup.

Jules Rimet Trophy

From 1930 to 1970, this cup was awarded to the winner of the World Cup. The trophy, originally called "Victory", was better known as "World Cup" or "Coupe du Monde", but was renamed the Jules Rimet Trophy in 1946 in honour of FIFA president Jules Rimet who organised the first tournament.

FIFA WORLD CUP

The follow-up of the Coupe Jules Rimet is, since 1974, the well-known FIFA World Cup. There are two figures holding up the globe. The name of the winning country is engraved on the bottom (in the footplate). The cup will forever remain a substitute trophy. The winning country shows the original cup to the public after the final match and receives a replica to take home. The original cup remains in the possession of FIFA.
